The "Fat Contributor" on Accident Insurance.

The "Breakneck Accident Insurance Company" wrote to the "Fat Contributor, not long since to work up a column or so of inducements for people to take out policies. This is the way he did it:

Everybody should get insured against accidents. No matter if you belong to one of the "best families"—accidents will happen in them.

Get a policy. The old proverb says: "Honesty is the best policy," but that was before Accident Insurance companies started. Now the best policy is a policy in the "Breakneck."

The other day a man in Chicago fell out of a fourth story window. He had no insurance and consequently he was killed. Another man, on the same day, fell out with his wife. He was insured in the "Breakneck," and is ready to fall out again.

A woman driving a spirited horse in St. Louis was run away with. Being insured against accidents, she wasn't alarmed a bit—stopped the horse and came back safe. Her policy running out, she neglected to renew it. Shortly after she was run away with again. Her husband's partner ran away with her this time, and she hasn't come back yet. Don't fail to renew your policy, particularly if it is the "Breakneck."

At Dubuque, Iowa, a man was kicked by a horse. The horse wasn't injured, and he got kicked back.

Near Paris, Ky., a man, while engaged in running a circular saw, had his arms taken off. They consisted of a cavalry sabre and a double-barrelled shot gun. The man who carried them off had an accident insurance, and he hasn't been caught yet.

In Philadelphia a man fell from the scaffold and broke his neck. If he had been insured in the "Breakneck" his sentence might have been commuted to "imprisonment for life." Why will men neglect these things?

Our agent at Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: "One of my neighbors, whom I had solicited to take a policy, laughed at me for thinking he could not take care of himself. The very next day he fell from the roof of his house, and—wasn't hurt a bit."

In Utica, N. Y., a man accidentally got married. Being insured in the "Breakneck" he will receive fifteen dollars a week until he recovers.

A young man in Portsmouth, Ohio, was jilted by a young lady and sued her to recover damages. Insured in the "Breakneck." He will receive fifteen dollars a week until he recovers.

A man was sentenced to solitary confinement for life in the Michigan State Prison. Policy in the "Breakneck," fifteen dollars a week to his room.

A gray headed old man was insured in the "Breakneck." The very next day he bought a bottle of hair dye—and dyed. His family received a handsome sum, on the black board.

Two cattle drovers started with a drove of cattle to New York. One had a policy and the other had none. There was a collision, and the one who had a policy wasn't hurt a bit—and the other wasn't either. Insure in the "Breakneck."

Near Portland, Maine, a poor man fell from a loft and broke his neck. He received his insurance, $3,000, from the "Breakneck," with which he was enabled to set himself up in business, and is now doing well.

Our agent at Cleveland, Ohio, writes: "A lumber horse ran away with a bob-tailed wagon and tipped the street over into a small woman and six elderly children. The horse began to cry, and the wagon bled freely at the nose, but otherwise the street is doing well. No insurance."

A boiler exploded at Memphis, blowing the engineer into the air quite out of sight. He will receive $15 a day until he comes down again.

A hog drover in Mount Sterling, Ky., was very much hurt by a fall—fall in pork. No insurance.

John Smith, of Michigan, lost a good deal of time by a sprain. An agent of "Breakneck" found it and returned it to him.

A man ran away from Litchfield, Illinois, to avoid paying his debts. He left a family (not being able to take them with him). No insurance.

A man accidentally fell from a steamer at New Orleans into the river. As he was sinking the third time he suddenly recollected that his policy in the "Breakneck" had expired. He then swam ashore, sought out the agent and renewed his policy, and immediately returned to the river and sank the third time in a serene and tranquil manner. Insure before you are in surely.

A cripple in Boston had his leg taken off—a rhymster took them off in verses. No insurance.

A fellow took a drink of whisky at a saloon in Cincinnati. Suddenly recollecting that he had no insurance, he immediately took an emetic, and then he took out a policy in the "Breakneck." He now takes his drinks with impunity—if impunity treats.

A member of Congress from New York city went to Washington, and fell from grace—sprained his brains so badly that he was forced to carry them in a sling. No insurance.

PARLOR TRICKS.—During the long winter evenings our juvenile readers will manifest their interest in fire-side tricks. The following are of late invention:

The Cable.—Take a piece of tarred cable about fifteen inches in length, and cut it carefully in two with a sharp knife, and then try and chew the ends together. You can try as long as you like.

The Nail Trick.—Take two large wrought iron nails, and wire them together in the form of a cross. It will then be found impossible to swallow them. There is no deception about this.

A Trick at Cards.—Select a pack of cards with plain white backs. Take out the four jacks and burn them before the company, letting them see the ashes. Now shuffle the cards quickly, and holding them in the left hand, give them a sharp rap with the knuckles of the right. Then place them on the table with the face down, and defy the company to find the jacks. They can't do it.

A VERY singular dramatic announcement is that of a performance of Othello at the New York Winter Garden, on Saturday evening next, in which Mr. Bogumil Dawison will play Othello in German, Mr. Edwin Booth will play Iago in English, and Mons. Rousseau Schelgel will play Desdemona, speaking German to Mr. Dawison, and broken English to Mr. Booth.—N. Y. Paper.

Polygamy.

"How the tendency of polygamy can be dangerous and hurtful to the authority of the government, we are at a loss to understand. We can very readily see how polygamy is dangerous and hurtful to prostitution and celibacy, but we did not know before that prostitution and celibacy were the government."

The above extract we take from a recent editorial in the Daily Telegraph, devoted especially to the defence of Polygamy. One of the charges alleged against the leaders of the Church is, that they are disloyal to the Government. This is no new allegation, nor one of recent birth. The founder of Mormonism, himself, was once arrested charged with treason, and we believe had at least a preliminary examination before a Mormon Justice of the Peace in Nauvoo. Without, however, going further back in history, Brigham Young himself in 1857 was in open and declared revolt against the Government, and made and levied war against its armies. A pardon by President Buchanan alone saved him and many others from a trial for treason. So that with these facts, which are now matters of history, staring one in the face, it is not so very preposterous after all, that the devotion of leading Mormons to the Government should not be, like unto Cæsar's wife, "above suspicion."

But the charge as embodied in the testimony before the Congressional Committee, is not merely that the Church leaders are opposed to the Government. Their own teachings in the Tabernacle and their continued assaults upon it year after year, and Sabbath after Sabbath, their own undenied and undisguised avowals, would be more than sufficient to set that matter at rest. But it is that the very necessity of their doctrine of polygamy compels them to array themselves against the Government.

The Telegraph is unable to see how the inculcation of Polygamy can be dangerous or hurtful to the authority of the Government, unless prostitution and celibacy are the synonyms of government. Passing by the poverty of logic and the still poorer attempt at irony, displayed in the preposition, we remark that the maintenance of Polygamy in the very teeth of the law against it, impels its devotees to do that which is hurtful and, to a certain extent, at least, dangerous to the Government. Not only does it help to bring the Government and its laws into contempt, but the Church leaders, in order to justify themselves in "counseling" violation of the law, are constrained to denounce the government which enacts it. The nation is held up to their followers as persecuting them for religion's sake, as the enemy of God and the Saints, and as bent on their destruction. What more natural, than that, failing in their charitable prayers that their "enemies" may have their eyes opened to the sublime beauties of Polygamy, they should seek to instil into their followers the religious duty of opposing, resisting, and if need be, fighting so unjust and so unholy a government. If there were no facts, no history, no examples of such teachings, to establish this, common sense and common reason would logically and unmistakably prove that the very essence and necessity of Polygamy, under a civilized government, would be disloyalty and opposition to that government. In Illinois, where was in force a similar law against bigamy, it was at once secretly taught and practiced, and publicly disavowed by the Saints. In Utah, where there is a similar (Congressional) law, Polygamy is openly taught, practiced and enforced as a Church tenet, and as a "test of fellowship."

We think that we can understand how the "tendency of polygamy is dangerous and hurtful to the authority of the government." More than that, we can also understand why the Mormon leaders are driven by it into open and undisguised opposition to that government. Having determined to maintain the doctrine and practice it, it is not only not surprising but is a logical and necessary corollary that they should revile, and be ready to rebel against a government which should seek to enact laws aginst it.

Their system goes back for a model to the patriarchal days, adopts the worst features of the Mosaic dispensation, reverses the civilization and progress of twenty centuries and holds up the ceremonies and practices of barbarism as the commands of God himself. An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth, was a part of the Mosaic law. It is likewise, with Polygamy, a part of the system of the Latter Day Saints, and the attempt to engraft these and similar barbarous dogmas on the civilization of the 19th century, is as preposterous as it is unwise and impracticable. For nearly two thousand years have the mild, humane and sublime doctrines of Him of Nazareth brought light and life into the world and overturned the barbarism of the olden dispensation. The Mormons would reverse all this, and carry us back to the darkness of patriarchal times.

A metropolitan correspondent of a Boston journal refers to Booth's popularity among the New York ladies. The women of New York have a most sentimental regard for Edwin Booth, and have, after the usual manner, idealized him into a sort of Admiral Crichton. They believe him an actual Hamlet, and seem to think him ever dying of a spiritual woe too deep for utterance and too subtle for appreciation by the vulgar world. He is the daily recipient of numerous tender missives, and is assured by the sympathies of several hundred fair women he never saw or heard of, of his knowledge. One of the secrets of the abstract adoration which women feel for him consists in his perfect indifference to them. If they believed to-morrow that he had a general fondness for the sex, more than half of them would be cured of their romantic attachment.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

London, January 18.

The morning journals mention the rumor that the great powers have resolved to urge the Sublime Porte to call a conference to consider the eastern question.

Paris, January 18.

The Upper House of the Hungarian Diet unanimously passed the Deak-Lonyay address.

Florence, January 18.

The Italian Finance Minister has confirmed the announcement that the Government intends to tax church property to the extent of six hundred million livres.

London, January 17.

It is reported that a desperate plot has been discovered to assassinate the Pacha of Egypt. The plot, which included sub-officers of the government, and the investment of the reins of government in the hands of Selim Pacha, who was said to be at the head of the conspiracy, was discovered and frustrated.

Washington, January 18.

In the Senate, with unanimous consent, the question to consider the resolution on the bill to regulate the tenure of office was taken up. The question was upon Sumner's amendment, as an additional section, providing that all officers of the government, excepts clerks of the departments, whose salaries exceed $1,000 per annum, shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Sumner said it is now a little more than a year ago since I felt it my duty to characterize the message of the President as a whitewashed document—that message presenting the condition of things in the rebel States as fair and promising, when the prevailing evidence was otherwise, and you do not forget how certain Senators, however struck at this plainness, leaped forward to vindicate the President. Yesterday some of these same Senators horror-struck again, leaped forward to the same task. Time has shown that I was right on the former occasion, and if anybody doubts that I was not right yesterday, I commend him to time, and he will not have to wait long for an answer. For myself I shall insist always on the free exercise of debate, and shall exercise it, thank God, now the slave masters have been driven from this chamber. Such at last is the liberty of an American Senator. Of course there can be no citizen of the Republic too high for exposure, as there can be none too low for protection.

The country is turning its eyes to the actual condition of things. Already it sees that Andrew Johnson, who came to supreme power by a bloody accident, has become successor of Jeff. Davis in the spirit by which he is governed and the misery which he has inflicted on his country. The country sees the President of the rebellion released by the President of the United States; it sees the violence which took the life of his illustrious predecessor is now by his preverse complicity extending through the rebel States, making all who love union its victims, and filling the land with oppression. It sees war upon faithful Unionists still continued under his powerful auspices without distinction of color, for both white or black are persecuted. It shows he is a monster of discord, not a minister of peace; it sees so long as his opinion prevails there is no security or tranquility or reconciliation; that the restoration of prosperity in the rebel States so much longed for must be the business of the whole country, a country embarrassed, as those conditions upon which rests a sound currency must be postponed. All these things the country now sees, but indignation assumes the form of indictment when it sees this far-reaching responsibility is to the rebellion itself on which it is continued it owes its invigorated and extended life through a plain usurpation of power. Sir, in holding up Andrew Johnson to judgment I do not allude to his exposure of himself in a state of bestial intoxication while he was taking his oath of office; nor do I allude to the maudlin speeches by which he has disgraced the country, as it was never before; nor do I hearken to any reports of pardon or corruption. This is not the case against him. My duty is to present in this argument those things that are very bad, but might not, in the opinion of some Senators, justify us on the present occasion, or, in other words, might be sufficient for the resolution.

New York, January 19.

At a meeting of the Union National Committee, in Washington, last evening, a preamble and resolutions were adopted, in which the President is defined as a deserter from the principles he was pledged to defend, and a more thorough organization of the party is declared to be required by his treachery. The headquarters of the Committee are appointed in New York, and members of the party throughout the country are requested to correspond with the Chairman. Nebraska and Colorado are congratulated on their admission; and the crowning resolution declares that, while the Union Party is anxiously desirous for the restoration of the rebel States, it believes no reconstruction can be safe or just that does not secure impartial suffrage.

Chicago, January 19.

Washington specials say Sumner's speech creates a profound impression.

The Senate passed the bill regulating tenure office by a vote of 29 to 9.

The House occupied yesterday in debating the Reconstruction bill, and voted to hold evening sessions.

The Kentucy Legislature balloted again for Senator, with no choice. James Speed has 62; Powell, 40; Davis, 33, and Harding, 21.

Randall's bill substituting greenbacks for National Bank notes, was reported in the House yesterday, and ordered printed.

A Memphis dispatch says sixty lives were lost by the sinking of the steamer Platte Valley, on Thursday night.

The conservatory attached to the Executive Mansion was damaged by fire yesterday. The loss, principally rare plants, exceeds a hundred hundred thousand dollars.

A large number of New Orleans policemen concerned in the July riots, have been arrested under the Civil Rights bill, upon affidavits of freedmen.

Washington, January 19.

In the Senate, Williams introduced a bill granting additional land to aid in the construction of a railroad from Lake Superior to Puget Sound. Referred.

The Senate debated the Bankrupt bill, and adjourned.

The House ordered printed the Senate bill concerning tenure of office.

The Military Committee was directed to inquire into the expediency of paying bounty to California troops enlisted for three years, but discharged by termination of the war.

The House then proceeded to consider Stevens' Reconstruction bill.

Spaulding offered an amendment suspending, until the rebellious States are admitted to representation in Congress, the writ of habeas corpus, and putting them under martial law. Stevens accepted the amendment.

A number of speeches were made, and the House adjourned.

The ship Mobile, with two thousand bales of cotton, and the steamer Montgomery, with six hundred bales, were burned in Mobile Bay on the 13th inst.

The interruption of travel east and west, by snow, is greater than for several years past, New York City is enjoying a carnival of sleighing.

At a meeting of the Committee on Ways and Means to-day, Secretary McCulloch gave members to understand that he was not opposed to making all sales of gold made by Government public.

New Orleans, January 19.

The Supreme Court has [illegible] the Act of Congress requiring stamps upon State legal processes unconstitutional. Justice Walker also decides [illegible] being de facto a government [illegible] personal repu[illegible] protected from all loss by [illegible] under Act of Legislature.

London, January 19.

Breadstuffs active.

It is reported that Queen Victoria will visit the Paris Exposition.

Rio Janeiro, December 15.

It is said the Allies [illegible] the defensive. The Paraguayans are said to be disconcerted.

Washington, January 19.

The Senators elect from Nebraska and Colorado met with discouragement from the President in their recent interview. It seems certain he will veto both bills. He is not only opposed to them on their merits, but regards the amendments tacked on by Congress as unconstitutional.

Cincinnati, January 19.

The German Theatre, corner of Walnut street, took fire in the roof, about half-past 10 this morning, and was considerably damaged, principally water; loss not ascertained.

Fort Mitchell, Dacota, January 19.

Indians, night before last, stole a herd of sixty mules, belonging to government, and a lot of horses, at Fort Laramie. They also killed two men engaged in hauling telegraph poles. There are not troops enough in this country.

Chicago, January 19.

The Kentucky Legislature still hangs fire on the Senatorship. James Speed withdraws, and it is thought the Union members will fuse with the Conservatives, and elect Lieutenant Governor Jones.

Horace Greeley has been in Washington several days, trying to propagate his general amnesty theory, but without much encouragement.

Chicago, January 19.

Arrivals from the Northern Plains report deeper snow than for many years. In some places along the Little Blue river the drifts are twenty feet deep.

The Denver News learns from an exploring party which recently ascended the Colorado river that that stream is navigable to the mouth of Green river, which is within the boundaries of Colorado. The vessel used by the exploring party was large enough to have carried four such boats as were used by Lieut. Ives when he explored the river.

New York, January 19.

The U. S. bonded warehouse of M. F. Smith & Co., on Washington street, was robbed last night of $11,000 worth of black silk, the property of A. T. Stewart. A portion of the goods have been recovered, but the robbers have not yet been captured.

Charleston, S. C., January 19.

The negro Horace Greeley was to-day convicted of the murder of Barnwell Rhett. His supposed accomplice, John Bull, was acquitted.

Fortress Monroe, January 19.

The late cold weather was the severest known here in ten years, and placed a complete embargo on steamboat travel on Chesapeake Bay and the James river.

From the North.

Gov. Green Clay Smith, of Montana, left by the overland stage for the East, on Monday, the 7th inst. The Post says the object of his visit is for the purpose of securing the equal and just appropriation of lands and moneys due the Territory of Montana.

The mildness of the winter is commented on by the press, and wood is quoted at $10 per cord.

[illegible] the mills in the vicinity of Owyhee Park are very flattering. We quote:

Judge Turnley's mill has up to the present time made five separate runs, averaging eighty tons of rock at each, or a total of four hundred and five tons of ore crushed, which has yielded in round numbers the sum of $26,000, being an average per ton of $64.19, and lacks but a fraction of being the even twenty cents. The last clean-up made from this mill was on last Friday, and was $6,000 from ninety-five tons of ore, or an average per ton of $63.15. These figures speak for themselves, and certainly need no lofty period to impress themselves on the minds of the thinking.

Prof. Hodge, superintendent and agent of the New York Gold and Silver Exploring and Mining Company, is now working some forty men, is down over one hundred feet, and is taking out some splendid looking rock. Whitlatch, on No. 3 west, on the same lode, has about thirty-five men at work "breasting out" on the incline and running the side drifts. They also continue to take out rich ore, judging from the last clean-up from Turnley's mill. Work is also being done on some of the other lodes, but by far the greater portion is at present put on the Union.

The Owyhee Avalanche, of the 12th, says that several of the county offices changed hands on the preceding Monday. A. C. Springer succeeded L. Stanford as Sheriff; Judge Hays yields his position as Auditor to L. W. Gremwell; Dr. A. E. Woodson takes the office of County Clerk; Col. A. H. Webb assumes the duties of Treasurer, in place of Dr. T. T. Beckett; O. H. Purdy continues as Superintendent of Common Schools; H. R. Browker is Surveyor in place of O. A. Palmer, and L. F. Otpy is Coroner. Who will be the County Commissioners is not yet definitely settled.

The Shoenbar mill has been running steadily for three weeks, with a fair prospect of continuing profitably without further interruption. Fifty tons of Silver Cord rock was first worked—the amalgamating being done by Mr. Shoenbar, and with satisfactory results.

The Idaho World says:

The citizens of Umatilla county, Oregon, have petitioned the Government to make terms with the Indians for the surrender to the whites of the Umatilla Reservation, which embraces 700 square miles of land, the most of which is superior to any in that region for general agricultural purposes. An extensive copper mine has also been discovered within the Reservation boundaries. It is proposed to remove the Indians to the Simcoe or Warm Springs Reservation, on either of which they can be maintained at materially less cost to the Government. The Umatilla Press says the petition has been signed by nearly every resident of that portion of the State.

The Statesman has the following from northern Idaho:

We are permitted to make the following extracts from a private letter, received last week from Lewiston, bearing date of January 2d, 1867:

"The holidays passed off quietly with the exception of one murder, on Christmas. Old Billy Page was shot while carrying a bucket of water into his house in town.

"Major McDaniels was found dead in his bed one morning a short time since."

Billy Page will be remembered as the person connected with Howard, Romain and Lowry in the murder of Magruder and party in 1863. The three latter were hung on his evidence in March, 1864.

Major McDaniels was well known in northern Idaho, also in California, as an able lawyer.

The remains of Francis McCoy of Walla Walla, who was murdered by the Indians while on the road to Owyhee, have been recovered, brought back to Walla Walla and interred there.

Should the America have cholera on board on her arrival, about the 15th or 16th instant, she will, by orders of the quarantine officer, be sent to Saucelito before a passenger is allowed to land. The sick will then be transposed to a vessel alongside, their bedding and clothing destroyed, and the ship cleansed and fumigated, after which, if no cases arise, the passengers will be allowed to land.

Timbuctoo, January 11.

J. P. Dudley was killed in J. C. Warren's claim this afternoon by a bank about one hundred feet high caving on him. He only lived about an hour after being taken out.

THE BOOTH FAMILY.—The Booth family at present, consist of the following members: The widow of the elder Booth; Lucius Junius Brutus, the eldest son, and a tragedian, Edwin Booth; Joseph Booth, who, at the breaking out of the war, was a medical student in Charleston, studying in the office of Dr. C. Davega, and is now assistant treasurer in the Winter Garden; and two daughters, one a middle aged lady and unmarried, and the other the wife of Clarke, the comedian, manager of the Winter Garden, of which he and Edwin are lessees. Mrs. Clarke is a most talented lady, and is author of a biographical sketch of her father—a well-written and most interesting work, published recently. Edwin Booth has been a widower for about three years, and has one child.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.—Emily Jordan is winning golden opinions at the Opera House. She deserves them all. She never performed better.

Edwin Booth made his "last appearance" again in Brooklyn December 28th. His next "last appearance" will take place in New York.

Owens gave, in New York, December 29th, what the papers announce as "the last of 'Solon Shingle'." Owens appears in that city in a new sensation on Monday, entitled "Chloroform; or, New York in 1867."

Mrs. Bowers is at the New Opera House, Pittsburg.

Parepa, the sweetest songstress living, is coming to Washington in opera. She will meet with a hearty welcome.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

...—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

CAMP DOUGLAS.—The ball given by the officers of the "Camp Douglas Lyceum" on Wednesday night, was a very successful affair. The hall was crowded with the gay ladies of both sexes, many of whom were from this city. The address of Mr. Rodgers, explaining the objects of the society, was very eloquently delivered. The night was propitious, and the sleigh ride to and from camp was enjoyed by us hugely. The members of the Lyceum have great reason to be proud of their first effort, which will certainly bear a repetition.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.—The Idaho World characterizes the late Legislature as one of the most exemplary bodies that ever yet assembled in that Territory for the dispersing of justice, and the enactment of good and wholesome laws. The Statesman says its riotous proceedings at the closing scene is "without a parallel in the history of any set of men claiming the name of a legislative body."

...Drr.—We learn, from a private letter received in this city, that Mrs. Williamson (formerly Miss Carmichael) has gone to New York to make arrangements for the publication of her new work on Mormonism. The well known ability of this talented authoress, together with her familiarity with the subject, promises the first issue of her book an event to be looked for with the most intense interest.

...KAGE.—There was a general complaint to-day from the numerous occupants of stores, as well as residences, in consequence of the "seive" like properties of the roofs and sides of the various buildings thoughout the city. A great deal of talk was made about the question of rents, suits for damages, etc., and if it had not been the Sabbath, we would no doubt have heard a good deal of swearing.

...K.—The Town Clock now is in full operation, and ever and anon its sonorous tones can be heard as it breaks upon the ear at intervals during the day and night. All watches are supposed to set their watches by it, and no doubt, it will in future be considered the "official" time.

...N DOWN.—We noticed yesterday that Mr. Engelbrecht was busily engaged in moving the bar fixtures of the Merchants' Exchange from the second story to the room on the lower floor. His patrons will now be saved the trouble of walking up stairs to obtain their favorite beverages.

...TERMANDED.—We learn that the order relieving Lieutenant Gill, the Post Adjutant at Camp Douglas, to his company, has been countermanded, and he has been assigned to the command of Co. H of the 18th U. S. Infantry, now at Camp Douglas.

...RD REDUCED.—By our advertising columns it will be seen that board at the Eureka House is reduced in price; but the bill of fare remains the same, and is not surpassed by any table in the city.

...OD AND COAL.—Now is your time to lay in a supply of wood and coal, and the best place to obtain it is at the well known depot of Eagrius, in the alley in the rear of the Lake House. 1t

...NTED.—Lieutenant Gilman, formerly of the Third Infantry, California Volunteers, has been appointed a Lieutenant in the regular army.

...E EPICURES!—Just read Ornstein & Co's notice of their stock of hams, tongues, dried beef and bacon.

...ED.—In this city, January 19th, by Bishop Drake, Mr. John Brown to Miss Elizabeth Hillhouse.

...ENT—A dwelling house, conveniently located. See advertisement.

The Territorial House of Representatives has a signal corps. It consists of a single general, Mr. Nuckolls, of Gilpin county. The man casts six votes on every question that comes before the House. When he wants the question put, or ignored, by Speaker Bertholf, he has only to telegraph that individual an understood elevation of certain fingers. When he wants Mr. Speaker and the majority members to vote for or against any measure, certain other signals effect his purpose. Mr. Head, the interpreter, knowns the signals and notifies the Mexicans how to vote in accordance therewith. Six puppets played by a single finger or two—it beats the Punch and Judy exhibition out of sight. The success of the performance has an advantage over the ordinary puppet shows, his strings never get disarranged. Mr. Speaker can lay down and roll over various times at his command, can wag his tongue or bring down the house by the warning finger; he need watch the House, so his head does not become dizzy by tedious harangues or verbose speeches. The Mexicans don't understand a word of what is going on, except by interpretation, so there is nothing to distract their attention from the signal man. Nuckolls, we admire your genius. You were born to command, though the intellects you master are of a somewhat weaker sort. Berthoud you are to be commended for the obedience you show to your master's hand. Mexicans you are to be pitied in your obtusity; like mummies in a museum, yet you waken to action at the signal of your monitor.—Denver News.

Mr. "Denver News!" wait a few days, when the Legislature of our State of Deseret meets, we can beat you and give you the game.

From the Sacramento Union we clip the following items:

News from Japan state that the Government is determined at last to break down the barriers of exclusiveness entirely, and meet foreign nations on equal terms on their own soil.

A Commission has been sent to Siam and Cochin China to open commercial relations and make arrangements for future intercourse. Eugene M. Van Reed, formerly from China, who brought Kisabro to America, and who carried the embassy to China, and negotiated the purchase of five cargoes of rice for the government account through the French authorities at Saigon, Cochin China. The residence will be extended to European and American countries eventually.

New Westminster, January 9.

The Russian American Telegragh Line reached last night a distance of 800 miles with 40 relays of battery at each end, despite the severe storm at Quesnelle and Fort Stager. This is the longest single circuit on the continent, probably in the world.

...KE VEDETTE.—This paper is the opponent of Mormonism, and the first to supply us with the telegraphic items from the East. T. Blake & Co. receive subscriptions for the Daily. We should like to see the Vedette it to old Brigham a little strongly inclinable.—Idaho Times.
